

heard that you want to limit satellite radio on traffic & weather issues. I purchased satellite radio because I travel for my profession and couldn't find radio stations along my travels that interested me. Satellite radio allowed me to find what I wanted without having to chase around the dial as I drove. about the weather and traffic. I can recall an incident while travelling south one spring and found out that I was in a tornado's path and wasn't aware of it. The weather announcements never mentioned any cities only county names. I heard a county name but didn't know that I had traveled through that county until I looked at a map later trying to figure out how close I was to the tornado since the weather looked very threatening.

the traffic advisories would be helpful as I approach a town since I could take alternate routes around or through cities if I was aware of incidents to avoid. This would save many man hours of mine and my customers time not having to be stopped in traffic jams.

as I reported earlier not being local I wouldn't know which stations to look for to check weather and traffic. Also I wouldn't know at what times to listen for traffic updates. I don't feel locally is doing all that it can to make me safe as I travel about this US of A.

I believe that satellite radio weather and traffic reports would be a service valuable to my travel profession.
